

OREGON MAN KILLED; AUTO TURNED OVER

EDWARD WADE VICTIM OF FATAL ACCIDENT ON DAYSVILLE ROAD TUESDAY.

FRONT WHEEL GAVE AWAY

Clark Farrell, Owner and Driver of Machine Was Slightly Injured.

(Special to the Telegraph.)
Oregon, Ill., Oct. 21.—Edward Wade was instantly killed and Clark Farrell was injured Tuesday afternoon when the automobile in which they were riding turned turtle on the Daysville road about a mile south-west of here. Amos Blanchard was also in the machine with them at the time of the accident but was thrown clear of the machine and was uninjured.

Farrell Driving.

The three men left Oregon about four o'clock for a ride in the country. They had Farrell's car and Farrell was at the wheel. While traveling along the Daysville road at a fair rate of speed, one of the front wheels of the car suddenly gave away and the car swerved and upset, turning over twice under the momentum.

Pinned Under Car.

Blanchard was riding in the rear seat and was thrown clear of the car but both Wade and Farrell were pinned under the machine, the life being crushed out of Wade almost instantly. Farrell's life was probably saved by the steering wheel holding the machine off his body.

Farrell was extricated from beneath the car with but a few injuries but Wade was dying when the machine was lifted from his body and passed away a few moments later.

The deceased man was a carpenter and was about fifty years of age.

BLAZING BONFIRES WILL MARK ROUTE OF LINCOLN HIGHWAY

ANNIVERSARY BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION WILL BE GENERAL OVER COUNTRY.

A blazing line of bonfires will mark a path of flame across the continent on the night of October 31st, when the cities and towns all along the 2,400 mile route of the Lincoln Highway will celebrate the successful completion of a year of progress. Celebrations are planned in over two thousand towns and cities for Halloween and these include in almost every case the burning of immense piles of tar barrels and great piles of brush and leaves as well as the lighting of red fires.

So general will be the observance of the first anniversary of the dedication of the great route that an aviator should his machine be swift enough, could almost follow the line of the route from New York to San Francisco by the trail of illumination which will express the sentiment of the thousands living along the way.

On the stroke of ten the match will be applied and amid the blowing of whistles and the tooting of horns the flames of 16,000 fires will leap up along the route where last year's dedications were held.

From the quiet streets of little Pennsylvania towns to the desert ranches and mountain settlements of the West, word has come that the celebrations of this year will outdo even the extravagant ovations of a year ago.

Many of the bonfires of last year were pretentious affairs, some of them being built up as high as fifty feet and soaked with oil and pitch. Some of these fires could be seen for a distance of twenty miles.

ANDERSON DEATH STILL SHROUDED IN UNCERTAINTY

POLICE UNABLE TO SAY WHETHER ROCKFORD MAN WAS MURDERED.

NO POWDER MARKS ON BODY

Nor Can Revolver Be Found—Robbery Couldn't Have Been the Motive.

(Special to the Telegraph.)
Rockford, Oct. 21.—At a late hour last night there were no new clues in the mysterious death of August Anderson, the night watchman at the Mechanic's Furniture company's factory on Seminary street early Sunday morning. A perfect maze of clues, hypotheses and opinions are advanced, but definite data in the killing is still lacking. The fact that the gun could not be found seems to point to murder, but the composed look on the face of the dead man and the knowledge that he had no enemies is held by other to be proof that he took his own life.

No Powder Marks.

The absence of powder marks caused physicians to think that the wound could not have been self-inflicted. It is believed that the weapon used was a .22 caliber revolver and a search was made about the premises by the police. Anderson was known to have a revolver of that description in a locker and failure to find it increased the mystery.

Body Was Not Robbed.

If the murder theory is correct, the shooting was not done for the purpose of robbery, for a valuable watch and $21.50 in cash was not touched. The last report from Anderson's duties is a time clock memorandum showing that it was punched at 5 o'clock. Death might have come at any time from then until the remains were discovered by the newsboys. According to the doctors who performed the autopsy, death was instantaneous, a fact which makes the theory of suicide harder to believe. If Anderson died at once, it would hardly be likely that the gun would have been thrown far enough to prevent its being found.

When found, the watchman had several empty shells from his revolver in his pocket and the police were informed that shots were heard near the factory Saturday night. Little credence is given the number of rumors afloat. No one has yet testified that any shots were heard that morning.

INSANE PRIEST STABBED MAN TO DEATH LAST NIGHT

FATHER J. J. MULLEN LOST MENTAL CONTROL AFTER BEING STRUCK IN HEAD.

(Associated Press.)

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 21.—Temporary insanity from a blow on the head is said by friends of Father J. J. Mullen to have been the cause of his outbreak at Hillside last night when he stabbed to death Thomas Patterson, a passenger agent, stopped a train and terrified the passengers before he was overpowered and placed in jail.

Father Mullen was in an automobile with Felix Scomin. Earlier he had quarreled about the European war with some men he had met in a saloon at Hillside and he was struck in the head by an unknown assailant. Later while cranking the automobile he seemed to lose all mental control. He fell to grow very feverish, and it was learned his hair was clotted with blood.

SHOT FROM DARK AT TAXI DRIVER

JOHN AUCHSTETTER NARROWLY ESCAPED BEING KILLED ON TUESDAY EVENING.

PASSED BETWEEN ARM AND BODY

Shot Was Fired Through the Windshield—Came From Third Street Viaduct.

John Auchstetter, a mechanic at the Joe Miller garage, was shot at from the top of the Third street viaduct early last evening as he approached it in a taxicab from the east enroute to the Northwestern depot. The bullet went through the windshield and between Auchstetter's right arm and body, striking the leather in the back of the seat.

Whether the shooting was an attempt to take the life of young Auchstetter or not is a mystery. He is a comparative stranger here and is not known to have any enemies.

He started for the depot to meet the Northwestern passenger train arriving here from Chicago at 8:57 o'clock and was accompanied by Jas. Harkins. When they were with fifty feet of the viaduct they heard the crack of a pistol and their windshield was broken. The shot was a well directed one, if the person holding the weapon meant harm, as it struck the car at a place where the driver would in all probability be located, but fortunately the bullet did not touch Auchstetter, going between his arm and side.

The shooting may have been purely accidental, or it may have been a planned attempt to take the life of some of the other drivers of the taxi. It was also learned today that a local taxicab driver has been paying attentions to a girl from Rockford, against the wishes of the girl's sweetheart, who may have come here for the purpose of revenge but shot at the wrong party. However, the matter is still a mystery and one which may never be unraveled.

GERMAN ADVANCE IN RUSSIAN POLAND BECOMES SERIOUS

NO CHANGES REPORTED IN THE MEAGRE NEWS FROM THEATERS OF WAR.

(Associated Press)

A summary of the war news today, all of which is very meagre, shows that the Germans have made severe attacks on Nieupoort, Dixmunde and Labasse, but that, according to a French official communication, they were repulsed.

There seems to be little doubt that the German advance in Russian Poland is threatening Warsaw seriously.

Berlin reports no important changes in the center or west theaters of the war.

MARTIN J. GANNON LAID TO REST IN BEAUTIFUL OAKWOOD

A LARGE CORTAGE OF FRIENDS PAID LAST TRIBUTE TO COMMISSIONER.

A very large number of friends of the late Commissioner Martin J. Gannon attended the last sad rites over his body this morning. A short service was conducted at the home at 1:30 o'clock and the body was then taken to St. Patrick's Catholic church where Father Foley delivered an eulogy to the departed commissioner.

The police and fire departments and a large delegation from the Elks and Knights of Columbus held places in the funeral procession. His remains were laid to rest in the family lot beneath a bank of floral pieces, offerings of the unnumbered friends of the deceased.

The order of the funeral procession was: The police department, the fire department with the auto truck, the members of the Knights of Columbus and Elks lodges, the pall bearers' carriages, Father Foley, the hearse and the carriages containing the family and friends of the late Mr. Gannon.

The firing squad of the G. A. R. gave a firing salute at the grave, the services there being in charge of the Elks. When the remains of Martin J. Gannon were lowered into the grave, a hush settled over the people assembled. All earthly tribute possible had been paid to one whom the people loved, and whose place in the family can never be filled.

All the stores, banks and, in fact, every business house in the city was closed from 10 to 11 o'clock out of respect to the deceased, and business was at a standstill while tributes were paid to their departed fellow citizen.

Robinson May Return To Iowa In Aeroplane

Dixon people may yet have an opportunity of seeing Aviator W. C. Robinson of Grinnell, Iowa, fly over the city for the young birdman, who on Saturday established a new American distance record by flying above the clouds from Des Moines to Kentland, Ind., is contemplating flying back to Des Moines from Chicago, in which city he arrived yesterday, completing the last stage of his journey from Monmouth to Chicago, a distance of fifty miles in thirty-seven minutes.

Robinson has not decided when he will return to Des Moines, according to advices from Chicago. He will give his machine a thorough overhauling, but it is announced that in all probability he will return to the Iowa capital via the air route. The monoplane which a Grinnell company plans to manufacture, and which is the invention of Mr. Robinson, is known as the toto-visible type by which the pilot is able to see underneath the machine, the wings being placed high. The radial motor is used, of a peculiar construction not regularly manufactured at present.

Dixon.—Inquiry shows that the Northwestern Barbed Wire Co. owned and operated an electric power plant in Rock Falls, and that the company had a franchise from the city of Rock Falls to sell electricity for power purposes in that city. The City of Rock Falls, according to reports furnished the Telegraph, endeavored to restrain the I. N. NEGROES SURRENDER UNDER FIRE THREAT

Officer Brings Alleged Attempted Slayers from Refuge.

East St. Louis, Ill., Oct. 21.—Two negroes hiding in a darkened basement of a house on Busch road and the Colquhoun railroad tracks, just outside of East St. Louis limits, made a scramble for the cut of doors when Motorcycle Patrolman H. A. Schutz threatened to burn down the house.

The negroes admitted that they were with William Ripley, another negro, when he was shot and killed by Private Watchman John Bartoletti. The shooting followed the negroes' attack on Ernest Bennett, eighteen years old, and Miss Margaret Wilshire, sixteen, who were walking through a shed near the southern limits of East St. Louis.

When Bartoletti appeared the negroes opened a revolver battle, in which Ripley was killed and Bennett was wounded in the right hip. The girl dragged the latter three blocks to safety.

After their arrest the two negroes, who said their names were James Pierce and Thomas Mesley, each seventeen years old, denied they had any part in the attack or the shooting.

BAR ASSOCIATION CONDEMNS RECALL OF JUDGES OPINIONS

SAY PEOPLE ARE CHANGING SENTIMENT TOWARD BARE-FUL THEORY.

TALK OF INJUNCTIONS, TOO

Think Labor Unions Should Be As Subject to Process As Other Interests.

(Associated Press.)

Washington, Oct. 21.—Emphatic opposition to the judicial recall, a plea that Congress should apply the same rule to injunction in labor cases as to other cases of injunction are among the questions treated in reports of committees presented today to the American Bar Association now in annual session here.

Concerning the status of judicial recall agitation, the committee To Oppose Recall reports in parts as follows:

"A perceptible change in sentiment toward the judicial recall is slowly but surely showing itself among the people of the different states. In many localities its true nature is not yet understood. In most states the average voter has, as yet, insufficient appreciation of its baneful character. The work of education must be continued. The signs, however, of increasing enlightenment, due to persistent efforts of its opponents, are everywhere apparent. Former leading advocates of judicial recall are saying less about it. Some of them are now saying nothing about it. Some have apparently given up the idea of the recall of judges, and have turned to the judicial decision recall as a substitute. Others, more adroit, have apparently given up both the recall of judges and the recall of judicial decisions and have retreated to positions less antagonistic to constitutional democracy."

Injunction Legislation.

Injunction before the present congress receives extended treatment by the committee in charge of the subject. The provision limiting injunctions in labor disputes, originally incorporated in the anti-trust legislation of the house of representatives is criticised by the committee which says:

"The provision distinctly requires the court to apply to controversies in labor cases a different rule from which is applied in other cases. To give special privileges to any class of men is opposed not only to the Declaration of Independence, but to the whole theory of government. On this point all parties agree."

Peace in Force.

"Can it have occurred to the gentlemen who propose this legislation that if the courts cannot decide these controversies peaceably, they will be decided by force. The shocking results of the latter method we see plainly in Colorado. Would it not have been better to have the questions which have given rise to blood shed there, decided in an orderly manner by the Colorado courts?"

"Your committee is not opposed to organized labor. We freely concede to laboring men the same right to organize that their employer possess. We are persuaded that in opposing the proposed legislation we are the true friends of both."

Tolls Question.

The Panama tolls question and the Japanese immigration are referred to in the report of the committee on International Laws, as follows:

"The discussion arising between the United States and Great Britain and other countries as to free tolls for coasting vessels of the United States has been amicably terminated by the repeal of the free tolls by congress by statute carefully worded to prevent the loss of any rights of the United States.

"Our relations with Japan continue to be disturbed by the denial of some states of this union of certain rights claimed by her nationals. It is respectfully submitted that like all matters of foreign relations this matter must, by the rules of the constitution and of expediency alike, be controlled and adjusted by the federal authorities as the interest of the whole country may seem to require."

DID CHILD WAKE UP CROSS OR FEVERISH

Look, Mother! If Tongue Is Coated, Give "California Syrup of Figs."

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask

Mr. Bryan is not now speaking against Mr. Sullivan, but the Bryan cohorts throughout the state are opposing him. INTERESTING SIDE LIGHTS ON WAR

(Associated Press Correspondence.)

London, Oct. 2.—The boycott of German and Austrian musicians, if employed to the detriment of English musicians, has been approved at a meeting of the London musicians, over which Sir Frederick Cowen presided. A committee composed of the chairman, Sir Edward Elgar, Edward Herman, Landon Ronald, Sidney Jones, Hubert Bath, Fred James and Gilbert Webb, was appointed to circulate the profession on the subject.

While English musicians do not taboo good music from whatever source it came, Sir Frederick Cowen declared they must recognize that foreign musicians had for many years usurped the places which could be filled by equally competent Britishers.

"It is not a question of animus," he said; "it is a question of our being able to come into our own."

The prevailing opinion was that the war offered an exceptionally opportunity for the English musicians since it also called away French, Russian and Italian competitors.

DEMENTTOWN DOINGS

Honestly now, haven't you noticed how beautiful the days are?

And while a lot of fellows are predicting a lot about the weather we take the liberty of prognosticating a heavy snow storm for a certain third party about about Nov. 3.

GIRLS STOP! WASHING THE HAIR WITH SOAP

SOAP DRIES YOUR SCALP, CAUSING DANDRUFF, THEN HAIR FALLS OUT.

After washing your hair with soap always apply a little Danderine to the scalp to invigorate the hair and prevent dryness. Better still, use soap as sparingly as possible, and instead have a "Danderine Hair Cleanse." Just moisten a cloth with Danderine and draw it carefully through the hair, taking one strand at a time. This will remove dust, dirt and excessive oil. In a few moments you will be amazed, your hair will not only be clean, but it will be wavy, fluffy and abundant, and possess an incomparable softness and lustre.

Besides cleansing and beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; stimulating the scalp, stopping itching and falling hair. Danderine is to the hair what the showers are to vegetation. It goes showers to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating and life producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

Men! Ladies! You can surely have lots of charming hair. Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it.

Dornan-Reilly.

This afternoon at 5 o'clock the marriage of Miss Grace Agnes Dornan and Mr. Michael James Reilly took place at St. Patrick's church. Rev. Father Foley read the services that united their happy lives, in the presence of a few friends and relatives. They were attended by Miss Agnes McCarroll as bridesmaid and Philip Reilly as best man. Miss Mary Bresnahan rendered the Bridal chorus from Lohengrin, as the wedding party advanced to the chancel. During the service and speaking of the vows the strains of Mendelssohn's "Spring Song" was softly heard.

The bride wore a beautiful traveling suit with hat and gloves en costume. They left immediately after the ceremony for Omaha, Neb., and other points of interest where they will spend their honeymoon. They will then return to this city to make their future home.

Mrs. Reilly is the daughter of Mrs. Margaret Dornan and is well known in this city and vicinity. Her friends are many due to her charming manners and loving disposition. The groom is employed on the Illinois Central Railroad at this place and his sterling character and pleasant manner have earned for him the many true friends he possesses. Both Mr. and Mrs. Reilly are now receiving the felicitations of their host of friends.

Nachusa School Social.

At Nachusa, Illinois the school girls and boys have a word which to you they would say. So without a doubtful word, on October 23rd, put on your "fix-ups" and prepare to go away. Some neighbor then will want to know where in the world you intend to go. In reply will you then kindly say: "My appetite is right and I'm going out tonight to the school house just across the way." After the girls and boys have made their share of noise and the older ones have had their say, the ladies living there will for us a lunch prepare and will greatly help us on our weight.

Phidian Art Club.

The Phidian Art club met in regular session Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. H. Ives with Mrs. Ahrens and Mrs. Ives as hostesses. On account of illness, the president, Mrs. W. C. Durkes, was unable to preside. Mrs. C. H. McKinney, vice president, took the chair, Miss Bosworth and Mrs. Lehman were elected delegates, Miss Hitchcock and Mrs. Stoddard, alternates, to the State Federation to be held in Springfield Nov. 10 to 15.

The music of the program consisted of a song by Miss Bernice Friedline, and instrumental numbers by John and Clinton and Miss Josephine Ives, the talented children of Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Ives. Master Clinton gave the "Berceuse" from Jocelyn, on the violin, accompanied by Miss Josephine, and the trio, on violin, cello and piano gave the "Sextette" from Lucia. Miss Hitchcock presented to the club the current event of the day, giving a brief resume of the recent world happenings. The paper of the afternoon was given by Mrs. G. H. T. Shaw, the subject being "An Afternoon in Mexico," and consisted in the personal experiences of Mrs. Shaw during her residence in Mexico. The topography of the country, the home, dress, manners and customs were described in Mrs. Shaw's most charming and lucid manner. A description of the City of Mexico with its beautiful cathedral, National Museum, National Pawnshop and gorgeous flower market was very interesting. Mrs. Shaw's talk was accompanied by a large number of pictures, masterly photographs taken by herself, which lent added interest to an unusually charming afternoon.

LESSONS OF THE PRIMARY.

In Roosevelt's home state, New York, the falling off in the progressive vote, as shown by comparisons between the 1914 primaries and the 1912 election, is far greater than in Bull Moose Maine despite the active contest for the gubernatorial nomination between Sulzer and Davenport.

Although the spirited contest brought out the strongest showing each candidate could make the progressive vote of the Empire state goes into the class of 90 per cent or greater loss which hit it in most of the states. The figures show the following situation:

	1914	1912
Primary		Election
Democrats	213,342	655,475
Republicans	203,826	455,428
Progressives	29,611	390,021
Democratic loss		67 per cent
Republican loss		55 per cent
Progressive loss		92 per cent

By comparison between parties, the republican vote in New York state suffered less than either the democratic or progressive vote, so that the republicans have the best of the showing.

This leaves the progressive vote in New York state a poor third, with the democrats and republicans contesting for supremacy, just as the field is lining up in Illinois.

REALTY MEN AROUSED.

Chicago real estate men have organized a Lawrence Y. Sherman club. Its purpose is to promote Senator Sherman's candidacy for re-election. In a political sense it is non-partisan.

The organization of this club marks the awakening of Chicago real estate men to the real issue involved in the senatorial campaign. They are coming to realize what the farmers and property owners down state have known for some time—that their welfare demands the defeat of both Sullivan and Robins.

Sullivan, the politician, blindly endorsing the state and federal administrations, stands for the imposition of a national war tax at a time when the nation is at peace with the world. Raymond Robins, while he now avoids the question of taxes, is a single-tax crusader.

Sullivan would burden the state and nation by continuing the democratic policy of waste and extravagance; Robins would have the country engage in a fantastic lot of socialistic enterprises and force the farmers and home owners to pay the bills. Robins' single tax proposition contemplates, too, the ultimate confiscation of land titles.

It is about time Chicago real estate men were getting busy and joining with down state farmers and other property holders to have the real estate of the commonwealth from unnecessary burdens and confiscation. They have too long been indifferent to this matter. They should have been in the fight years ago.

Had the realty men of Chicago been as much alive as the farmers of Illinois, no high-tax or single-tax candidate for the United States senate would have had the effrontery to announce himself in this state.

A PROGRESSIVE STRAW.

When voters recall the undisputed fact that 23 out of the 27 progressive representatives in the last general assembly pledged themselves to vote for Lawrence Y. Sherman in consideration of republican votes for Frank H. Funk, they may be able to account for the favor with which Lawrence Y. Sherman's present candidacy is received by the constituents of those 23 progressive representatives.

Sherman won 85 per cent of the progressives in the legislature and it is not far out of the way to anticipate that he has won more than 85 per cent of the progressive voters in the counties which sent those members to the legislature. Not one of the 23 ever was criticized for agreeing to vote for Sherman, nor will their constituents be criticized for doing the same thing.

If Senator Sherman wins 85 per cent of the progressive vote in addition to what republican vote he can count on, he will have even a greater majority than his managers have been claiming for him. It is as clear as day that the single-tax candidate, Raymond Robins, will not make any showing as a progressive except with the aid of votes drawn away from Roger Sullivan.

Why Not Now?

Politeness

By WALT MASON

I kicked an agent from my porch, but did it so politely, he handed me a ten-cent torch, and said I acted rightly. With bows and becks and wretched smiles all working well together, I handed him some forty styles of alligator leather; and he felt honored when he hit the walk and rolled upon it, and gathered up his peddling kit, and went away, doggone it. And thus a smile will take the sting from each unpleasant action; instead of rousing ire, by jing, you're giving satisfaction. It's easy, friend, to make a foe—you'll make a new one hourly, if you insist on saying "No," abruptly, sternly, sourly. It's just as easy, when a guy comes round your house to borrow, to meet him with a twinkling eye, and answer, "To my sorrow, old Dobbin has a festered ear, and also yaller janders, and he has symptoms, too, I fear, of chickenpox and glanders. 'Twould please me to accommodate, and let you have my charger, if he were fit to pull his freight—just ask me something larger." And then he'll leave you feeling good, and say you are a dandy; "I know he'd help me if he could," he'll tell his wife, Mirandy.

VEST POCKET ESSAYS

Author of "At Good Old Siwash."
By George Fitch.

The Uhlands, who are now being used by French and Belgian nurses to frighten the children to sleep, are not necessarily a tribe or a lodge, as has been suspected by many puzzled readers. They are a variety of cavalry. They are not even necessarily German. Russia and Austria also possess Uhlands, but the German brand is by far the most disagreeable to have around.

The Uhlands were invented by the Tartars, who came into Central Europe hundreds of years ago from Asia and introduced their justly celebrated spears into the midst of the inhabitants with great industry. At that time Uhlands were a stout horse, a sabre and a lance with a red cloth on it. The red cloth was used to frighten the enemy, but of late years it has been found that a press agent is much more effective.

Uhlands infested Europe through all the middle ages but they rose to their greatest fame in 1870, when Prussia sent many thousands of them over into France to ramble through the country. The Uhlands did this with great success and made themselves so disagreeable that a French cannon would run away without horses at the sight of them. The Uhlan roamed in large squads over, around and through the French infantry, chipping off chunks of it with their heavy swords, burning railroads, capturing cannon, and making themselves as disagreeable as a big boy in a game of marbles. When the war was over, the Uhlands had made their reputation and they have helped keep Europe nervous ever since.

In the present ill-feeling the Uhlands have been very busy, as usual, and wherever a French or Belgian village is found in flames it is reasonably certain that these precocious horsemen have been around. During the first weeks of the war over 100,000 Uhlands were reported killed or captured by the Belgians. However, as there are only about 50,000 of them in the German army, and as traces of Uhlands have been discovered by the coroners in many parts of France since then, it is evident that someone made a mistake in adding up the figures.

LETTER TO CANDIDATES.

To John B. Crabtree, candidate for County Judge of the republican party; John J. Armstrong, candidate for County Judge of the democratic party; John E. Erwin, candidate for County Judge of the progressive party: Gentlemen:

The time when the people of Lee county shall be required to elect a county judge of Lee county is now near at hand; it is therefore but fair that the respective candidates should, as far as they are able, assist the voters in making an intelligent choice of a person for that office, and to the end that they may be informed concerning the qualifications of the respective candidates and the principles of government, championed by the candidates, I, as candidate of the socialist party for judge of the county court of Lee county, hereby extend to you and each of you a challenge to join in public debate the questions at issue in the campaign.

I respectfully challenge you to show to the people any reason from personal fitness or declaration of party principles for said office of county judge of Lee county, Illinois.

If you should accept this challenge, I would suggest that we hold in some proper place two debates, one in the city of Dixon and the other in the city of Amboy to be arranged by the respective parties in this campaign. I will meet with you or any of you at any time to arrange the details of the debate.

Yours respectfully,
H. A. BROOKS,

BRITAIN AND KAISER EACH LOSE WARSHIP

Japanese Put German Submarine Out of Business.

London, Oct. 21.—It is announced officially in Tokyo that the German torpedo boat S-90, which escaped from Tsing-Tao under cover of darkness, has been found aground and destroyed by the Japanese at a point sixty miles south of Kiauchau bay. A dispatch received at Peking from Tsing-Tao says the Japanese cruiser Takachino was sunk by the S-90 on the night of Oct. 17.

Berlin, Oct. 20.—(By wireless to Sayville.)—It was officially stated here that the British new submarine E-3 was sunk on Sunday, Oct. 18, by German warships in the North sea.

The destruction of submarine E-3 is the first loss suffered by the British submarine service since the outbreak of the war. The E-3 was a comparatively new boat, having been completed in 1913. She was 176 feet long and 27 1/2 feet beam. She was capable of making sixteen knots above the water and ten knots below, and was equipped with four twenty-one inch torpede tubes. Her complement consisted of sixteen men.

Harwich, Oct. 21.—It is reported here that the Holland-American line steamer Potsdam struck a mine in the North sea and was crippled by the resulting explosion.

The Potsdam came into New York Aug. 12 from Rotterdam, after having been held up off Fire Island by a British cruiser. Three days later she sailed for Europe with German reservists on board, but was picked up at sea by a British ship and taken into Falmouth, where the reservists were made prisoners of war. Later the Potsdam was released and came back to New York. She sailed again for the other side and was again taken by a British warship into Falmouth. She was released a second time and sailed from England for Rotterdam, at which port she was reported Oct. 15.

GOV. DUNNE TELLS OF SAD EFFECTS OF ILLINOIS' POOR HIGHWAYS.

(Associated Press)

Chicago, Oct. 21.—Bad roads and the mental diseases of women who live on farms are said to have close connection, said Gov. E. F. Dunne in an address to the Association of Commerce here. Experts, said the Governor, hold that the isolation due to faulty highways causes a feeling of depression which brings on mental derangements. Dunne said the Illinois farmer is in the background in good road work and as a result crop distribution suffers from it.

Vote for John E. Moyer for Treasurer.

Fred Dimick, candidate for County Clerk on the Republican ticket.

Charles C. Johnson.

Charles C. Johnson of Fairfield, candidate for clerk of the appellate court, Fourth district, was born in Wayne county, Illinois. He had all the experiences common to farm boys struggling for an education. After leaving the district schools he attended higher institutions of learning and fitted himself for teaching. He taught school six years. He was then appointed deputy county clerk of Wayne county and served in that capacity for 16 months. In 1906 he was elected county clerk and re-elected again in 1910. Mr. Johnson's constituents have complete confidence in his official ability. He is thirty-three years of age. He takes active part and interest in all matters pertaining to the betterment of civic conditions.

Sherman's Record.

Senator Sherman has made a splendid record for himself since his election to the senate two years ago. He is already gaining a wide influence there among his colleagues. His strong belief in the merits of the protective tariff and his speeches along this line in protest of the discriminatory Underwood bill is evidence of his interest in the financial and moral welfare of the people of Illinois.—Monmouth Atlas.

CONTEMPTIBLE

At the close of his Illinois campaign in the interest of Raymond Robins, Colonel Roosevelt committed an act of ill-breeding that passes understanding.

While addressing his audience at East St. Louis he pretended that he had forgotten the name of Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman and contemptuously and sneeringly referred to him as a "stool pigeon," who was running on the Republican ticket.

For two days the colonel had been traveling through the state belaboring Sullivan and, by clever innuendo and misstatements of fact, had attempted to poison the minds of Illinoisans against Senator Sherman. He had not found his audiences responsive. The one which gathered in Springfield walked out on him. He was, doubtless, chagrined at the failure of his effort. The gorge of defeat was in his throat and he was bitter—very bitter.

But this does not excuse his conduct at East St. Louis. No matter how he may have felt toward the good-natured people of Illinois whom he had failed to influence with his oratory, there was no occasion for offering personal insult to Senator Sherman. It was nothing less than contemptible.

Roosevelt had not forgotten the name of Sherman. He became familiar with it years ago, when Sherman was battling for his political life with the same men against whom Roosevelt was arrayed. They had broken bread together, and together they had discussed Illinois politics. Sherman had visited Roosevelt at the latter's home, on Roosevelt's invitation; Roosevelt had accepted the aid of Sherman in Illinois and had gratefully acknowledged the latter's assistance in helping him get a representative, loyal delegation in his last effort to secure a Republican presidential nomination.

But Sherman had been true to the political party which had honored him with responsibility. He had been Roosevelt's friend, but his sense of public duty had forced him to part political company with Roosevelt.

Even so, Roosevelt would have continued to know Sherman if the latter had not reached the United States senate and had not been endorsed for re-election by the Republicans in a state-wide, popular primary. It was the public approval of Sherman's loyalty to Republicanism which galled Colonel Roosevelt. He could not abide the survival of a man who had refused to follow him in rebellion. His pride was wounded. Sherman must be destroyed.

And when the assault failed to produce results, when the crowds refused to respond, Roosevelt hissed and struck in blind venomous fury.

The fangs pierced his own manhood. Colonel Roosevelt, scion of a proud old New York family, man of letters and learning, world-famous as a soldier and statesman, most notable personage of his generation, twice elevated to the highest political office that exists, twice chosen to rule the greatest of nations—Roosevelt, the gentleman, descended to a petty act of personal malice against a man who had done him no personal harm and with whom he had no personal quarrel.

Friends of Colonel Roosevelt who believed him incapable of meanness, hang their head for him.—Illinois State Journal.

Dramatic Roles

OPERA HOUSE.

Mr. Simpson has a very pleasing program for his patrons this evening. "As the Wind Blows," a two reel Rex drama, a man seeking divorce wins his wife's love. If a woman is forced by circumstances and the weakness of a relative to marry her employer against her wishes, although she is in love with another, is the action on her part and this self-sacrificing worthy of happiness, or should she receive her just deserts by acting contrary to her conscience? Often a girl in the business world has temptation thrust upon her, but on the other hand a great many men have found in their employees, wives suitable to grace the most luxurious home and happiness often greater than their fondest hopes. It is a question whether a woman, who sacrifices herself because of the wrongdoing of some other member of the family, is doing right as she only brings upon herself a life of privation and hardship, and naturally causes unhappiness for the man she marries unless she can reciprocate his love. Often this problem is brought home only too strongly and is prompted by the idea that the girl will eventually learn to love the man whom she marries under these conditions. No truer example of this condition can be shown than in the play, "As the Wind Blows." "The Deer Hunter," Lord Charles Raleigh on deer hunt finds dear, an extremely funny Universal like comedy. Completing the bill is "Simple Faith," a beautiful Victor drama. "Richelieu," the great four reel feature, will be shown at the opera house Friday, the price remaining the same.

PRINCESS THEATER.

Tonight two fine features will be shown at the Princess theater. The first is "The Game Keeper's Daughter," a Domino feature with Thomas Chatterton and Rhea Mitchell in the leading roles. This is a powerful treatment of the theme "Vengeance is mine, I will repay." The other feature is entitled "Her Awakening," a majestic drama with Branche Sweet in the leading role. This is a powerful as well as a thrilling drama, well produced and an all star cast.

On Thursday night the sixteenth episode of the "Million Dollar Mystery" will be shown at the Princess theater. After the capture of the crooks in the fifteenth episode the prize in too great to permit them to lay aside their hopes in getting the Hargrave fortune. The Countess Olga calls upon Florence one day and Susan becomes mysteriously ill. The countess recommends a certain Dr. Webster, who is Braine in disguise. He advises the girls to the seashore for a rest and they set out at once for a quiet rest. In accordance with well laid plans he pays Florence and Susan a visit and gives Florence a powerful drug and she is soon under its effects, he then tells the hotel keeper that Florence has small pox and a rigid quarantine must be kept. Meanwhile Susan takes Florence's place on the couch and Florence escapes. After this a terrible chase is given them by Braine and his friends which ends in Florence getting into quicksands and she is rescued by Norton after much bravery and cool-headedness. The conspirators are outwitted and are knocked senseless by Norton's blows.

FAMILY THEATRE.

The Wallace-Hagenback Circus in four reels will be shown at the Family theatre this evening and doubtless will prove a decided novelty in the line of films. It represents the animals of the show, unloading, putting up the big tents, the parade and a

MAY RESTORE WAR TAX ON GASOLINE

CONFERENCE IS BEING HELD TO REACH AN AGREEMENT THIS WEEK.

(Associated Press) Washington, D. C., Oct. 21.—After a conference with the president, Representative Underwood and Senator Simmons began to consider the proposals to reduce the $1.70 tax on beer as passed by the senate in the war revenue bill and to restore the house tax on gasoline. It is hoped that an agreement can be reached and congress can adjourn by Saturday.

C. C. Duffy.

C. C. Duffy of Ottawa, candidate for clerk of the appellate court, Second district, which office he now holds, is endorsed by over twelve hundred of the judges and lawyers of the Second appellate district. Mr. Duffy enlisted in the One Hundred and Fifth Illinois infantry at the age of eighteen, and served in all the campaigns of the Army of the Cumberland, from Louisville, Ky., to Atlanta, from Atlanta to the sea, and from Savannah through the Carolinas to Washington. After the war he attended school for six years, was graduated from the Northern Illinois college in 1871, and was engaged for 19 years in school work in Kendall county, Illinois, both as city superintendent and county superintendent of schools. He is a past department commander of the G. A. R. of Illinois, Knights Templar and Elk.

complete ring performance. It shows the wonderful system used in the management and transportation of a big show and also gives an idea of the enormous amount of work and detail required to move the show each day. It gives cook tent, the dressing room and preparations for the parade and ring work, and will prove an intensely interesting subject.

A one-reel feature of Daily, the Detective, will also be shown.

FUNERAL OF MISS M'FADDEN THURSDAY

NON-ARRIVAL OF SISTER COMPELLED POSTPONEMENT OF LAST RITES.

Because of the non-arrival of a sister from the west, the funeral of Miss Katherine McFadden of Maytown, which had been announced for this morning, has been postponed until tomorrow (Thursday) morning at 10 o'clock at which time the last sad rites will be said at the Maytown Catholic church.

The deceased is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neil McFadden of Maytown and is survived by her parents and two brothers and six sisters: Charles of Maytown, John of Montana, Agnes at home, Mrs. Mary Sharkey of East Grove, Mrs. P. E. Drew of Slayton, Minn., Mrs. Charles E. Wiggins of Rice Lake, Wis., Mrs. Robert McDermott of Harmon and Mrs. James Ryan of Maytown.

Miss McFadden was one of the most accomplished nurses in this section of the state and for some time she was the efficient superintendent of the Amboy hospital, a position she held with credit to herself and the institution. She was an estimable lady in every respect and a host of friends mourn her passing and tender heartfelt condolence to the bereaved relatives.

HOYNE SPRINGS COUP ON CHICAGO SLEUTHS

Raids Detective Department and Seizes All Books.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—Positive evidence of collusion between certain "high-ups" in the police department and the Chicago underworld is said to have been obtained late in the day in a dramatic raid of the detective bureau by agents of State's Attorney MacLay Hoyne.

Two wagon loads of books and records were hauled to the grand jury room, where the investigation of charges of police graft are being conducted by the state's attorney. The evidence was obtained by subpoenas duces tecum, and consists of 150 filing cases containing the card index of 16,000 cases reported to the detectives in the last few years; ten arrest books and twenty-four "sneak books."

Since the investigation was launched Mr. Hoyne has been very anxious to obtain the list of secret arrests and unbooked prisoners, charging that old officers have frequently been seized by the police, but released after a "shake down." His efforts have met with success.

Health First

In buying food articles we must consider several things—economy, results, convenience, reliability; but the most important is Health.

Health means everything. If one gets cheated in buying dresses, shoes or bonnets it is provoking, but the harm is chiefly loss of money. In buying food articles, if imitations or poor stuffs are supplied, there is a loss of money and probably an injury to health also; and good health is beyond price.

The Trey O' Hearts

So it seemed that the three must have had warning of their arrival, after all; and presumably were now herded together in the adjoining room, which looked out over the veranda roof, waiting in fear and trembling for the assault that must soon come—and in fact immediately did.

But it met with more stubborn resistance than had been anticipated. The door had been barricaded from within—re-enforced by furniture placed against it. Four minutes and the united efforts of four men (including the bleary loafer of the barroom) were required to overcome its inert resistance. But even when it was down, the room was found to be as empty as the first.

Only the fingers of two hands gripping the edge of the veranda roof showed the way the fugitives had flown; and these vanished instantly as the room was invaded.

Followed a swift rush of hoofs down the dusty street, and a chorus of blasphemy in the hotel hallway: for Judith had headed the concerted rush for the staircase and contrived to block it for a full half minute by pretending to stumble and twist her ankle.

In spite of that alleged injury, she never limped, and wasn't a yard behind the first who broke from the hotel to the open, nor yet appreciably behind him in vaulting to saddle.

Well up the road a cloud of smoky dust half obscured the shapes of three who rode for their very lives.

The pursuit was off in a twinkling and well bunched—Marrophat's mount leading by a nose, Judith second, Hopi Jim and Texas but little in the rear. And in the first rush they seemed to gain; moment by moment they drew up on the flying cloud of dust.

Judith heard an oath muttered beside her and saw Marrophat jerking a revolver from its holster. The weapon swept up and to a level; but as the hammer fell, Judith's horse caromed heavily against the other, swinging it half a dozen feet aside, and deflecting the bullet hopelessly.

The shock of collision was so great that Marrophat kept his seat with difficulty. He turned toward Judith a face livid with rage.

Simultaneously, as if taking the shot as the signal for a fusillade, Judith saw Alan lean back over his horse's rump and open fire.

An instant later his companion, Barcus, imitated his example.

In immediate consequence, Texas dropped reins, slumped forward over the pommel, wobbled weakly in his saddle for a moment, then losing the stirrups, pitched headlong to the ground; while Hopi Jim's horse stopped short, precipitating his rider overhead, and dropped dead.

CHAPTER XXXVIII.

The Upper Trail.

In the ten minutes' delay necessitated by this reverse, a number of more or less innocent bystanders picked up the man Texas and carried him off to breathe his last beneath a roof; Hopi Jim picked himself up, brushed his person tolerably clear of clouds of dust and profanity, and departed in search of a mount to replace the horse that had been shot under him; and Judith sat her horse calmly, smiling sweet insolence into the exasperated countenance of Marrophat.

Incidentally the fugitives disappeared round a bend in the road that led directly into the wild and barren heart of the Painted hills.

In the brief interval that elapsed before his return with Hopi Jim, Marrophat contrived to persuade the bandit that Judith had been, at least indirectly, responsible for the catastrophe, with the upshot that, temporarily blinded to her fascinations by the glitter of nineteen thousand dollars in the near distance, Mr. Slade maintained his distance and a deaf ear to her blandishments. The only information as to their purpose that she was able to extract from either man, when the pursuing party turned aside from the main trail, some distance from Mesa, was that Hopi Jim knew a short cut through the range, via what he termed the upper trail, by which they hoped to be able to head the fugitives off before they could gain the desert on the far side of the hills.

Only at long intervals did they draw rein to permit Hopi Jim to make reconnaissance of the lower trail that threaded the valley on the far side of the ridge.

Toward noon he returned in haste from the last of these surveys—scrambling recklessly down the mountain-side and throwing himself upon his horse with the advice:

"We've headed 'em—can make it now if we ride like all get-out!"

For half an hour more they pushed on at the best speed to be obtained from their weary animals, at length drawing rein at a point where the trail crossed the ridge and widened out upon a long, broad ledge that overhung the valley of the lower trail, with a clear drop to the latter from the brink of a good two hundred feet.

One hasty look back and down into the valley evoked a grunt of satisfaction from Hopi Jim.

"Just in time," he asserted. "Here they come! Ten minutes more . . ."

His smile answered Marrophat's with unspeakable cruel significance.

"Texas will sleep better tonight when he knows how I've squared the deal for him!" the bandit declared.

"What are you going to do?" Judith demanded, reining her horse in beside Marrophat as the latter dismounted.

His smile answered Marrophat's with unspeakable cruel significance.

Albert P. Grout.

Albert P. Grout of Winchester, candidate for trustee of the University of Illinois, was born in Vermont in 1848. He obtained his education in the public schools of Vermont, the People's academy of Morrisville, Vermont and Dartmouth college from which he graduated in 1873. Immediately following his graduation he came to Illinois, where he taught school for three years. Following this he spent three years in Nebraska and while there served a term in the legislature. Returning to Illinois in 1883, Mr. Grout located in Winchester, where he has since resided. Mr. Grout has twice served as a member of the board of trustees of the University of Illinois, once by appointment and lastly by election.

THE TARIFF AND FARMER.

While the European war has automatically raised a high tariff wall around the United States for the time being it does not obscure our view to the effect of the Democratic tariff upon the products of the American farm. Under this free-trade law the bars were thrown down to the importation of foreign staples in direct competition with domestic products to an extent that may be gathered from the following statistics issued by the department of commerce:

Imports of corn—	Bushels
During four months ending January 31, 1914	7,034,159
Imports same period previous year	250,000
Imports of oats—	Bushels
During four months ending January 31, 1914	16,194,145
Imports same period previous year	23,580
Imports of potatoes—	Bushels
During four months ending January 31, 1914	3,261,000
Imports same period previous year	79,000
Imports of butter—	Pounds
During four months ending January 31, 1914	4,573,079
Imports same period previous year	470,000
Imports of eggs—	Dozen
During four months ending January 31, 1914	2,885,561
Imports same period previous year	None

On down the list of farm products the door has been opened to the cheap labor commodities of other countries. While the importations for the first four months under the Democratic tariff are gigantic in comparison with those under Republican rule the increase would continue right now except for the war. The only relief—after the war ends—will be the repeal of the existing law. Thus far the Wilson administration has been rather fortunate in diverting attention from the tariff, but it cannot hope to have the attention of the American farmer permanently diverted. The probability is that they have now centered on this very subject of the tariff a good deal more than some may think.—Omaha Bee.

Self.

Colonel Roosevelt is quoted in one of his newspaper organs as saying that "he was satisfied with the result in the Maine election as all that the Progressives had hoped for was to defeat the Republicans, and this they achieved. . . . They are out to defeat the Republicans" whether they deserve defeat or not. There is of course no thought of the public welfare for it cannot be that the defeat of the Republicans without regard to the character of their candidates can further the interests of the people.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Bipartisanship.

The real exemplars of bipartisanship in Illinois in this campaign are the Progressives. As a matter of fact, they are tri-partisan. Senator Owen, an Oklahoma Democrat, and James Manahan, a Minnesota Republican, have entered the state in support of the Progressive candidate. Owen condemns Sullivan. Manahan berates Sherman. The Progressives have nothing good to say of either Sherman or Sullivan. The crazy-patch campaign has a few followers, but there is every indication that a strong Republican organization will elect Sherman in November.

THE DEGENERATION OF WASHINGTON GIVINS

Copyright, Puck

By WARDON-ALLAN CURTIS

Once down there on the Panama Canal, while I was boss on the La Ronda section, a muckraker by name of Washington Givins blew in and got to pokin' round in the cook-house and seen me and our cook, old Bill Andrews, confabulatin', and shadowed him and me on several private expeditions, with the result that he wrote an article, and it was a corker.

You know you can't keep men good-natured 'less you feed 'em well, and they won't work well if they're cross. And you can't do general cooking without aigs.

You can beat up snow for a substitute some, but there ain't any more snow in Panama than there is in—well, there ain't any. There hadn't been no aigs to speak of on the Canal for a number of months, and all the camps was kickin' on grub. All but ourn. Old Bill Andrews, somehow, he had sponge-cake, custard, floatin'-island, lemon-ple with frostin' on it, and all such. Our fellers was happier and worked better'n any on the Ditch.

But good things don't aigus last. One day I heard a big noise at noon, and there was all the boys crowded 'round headquarters with Tom Riley as spokesman.

"Here!" says Tom. "This here low bound of a Givins has put a piece in his paper to the effect that cooking at La Ronda is done or did with snake aigs."

"That's right, boys. No use keepin' it from you. He sure tracked Bill and me while we was gatherin' 'em. Them pancakes this mornin' that tasted like them mother used to make was beat up with boa-constrictor aigs. That cream-puddin' last night that would have done honor to Delmonico, or Tiffany, or any of them New York artists, was made of moccasins aigs; while that prime angel-food, light as a feather, was made—I won't try to keep it from you—from the Fer de Lance tribe—most deadly serpent they is. Bill and I done the best we could for you."

"We know it, George," said Tom. "We ain't mad at you, but at Givins. What'd he want to tell for, the miserable cuss? But he's made us dreadful uneasy. Feel queer in our innards. He uses a lot of scientific facts that make a feller apprehensive. He says races vary accordin' to food."

"Says he: 'Adventurin' out of the time-honored dietary of the race and eatin' the serpent, not for an occasional relish, as we have eaten snails and turtle, but for constant consumption, in fact, buildin' the culinary economy upon it in one of its principal essentials, aigs, brings more than danger of serpentication. An aig,' he says, 'is the animal in a compressed form, the essence, the compendium of all it will develop into. Eatin' snake aigs is, therefore, worse than eatin' snake meat. The unfortunate force of La Ronda, fed this long time on snake aigs, is gradually assumin' many of the mental and physical characteristics of snakes. It is unmistakable. All I ask is that the Government at Washington act.'"

"All right," says I. "In my capacity of justice-of-the-peace I'll sentence Givins for two months on charge of defamation of character, and we'll feed him on snake aigs exclusive, and find out what'll happen. If he becomes snakeified, that'll show he's innocent. If not, he'll be guilty of knockin' the Canal, and so I reckon the courts would decide that was treason with the penalty of death. Put him in the calaboose, and in the meantime don't sit nervous."

I changed my mind on some things after thinkin' a little, but I put Givins in jail. That night, something happened that made me and Bill Andrews as happy as a pair of bullfrogs. Next day we begun givin' Givins his diet.

At the end of the week Givins was spendin' several hours daily doin' contortions. End of two weeks, he'd curl up in the corner and lie perfectly still, eyes unblinkin'. End of 'nother week, we threw in a small rabbit, and hanged it if he didn't manage to swallow it whole, and then he lay still for two days.

Then I fetched in an ash bough and shook it at him, and he squirmed from one side of the cell to 'other. Spoke for the first time in a long while. Says he:

"If you are bound to kill me by forcin' me to touch and inhale this plant, I shall sell my life dearly. A bite from me would not be pleasant."

I called in Bill Andrews.

"Bill," I says, "did or did not a tramp steamer come to port last week bringin' two dozen hen-birds on the forward deck?"

"Yes," says Bill.

"We rowed out and bribed the watchman and stole 'em," says I.

Then I swore Tom Riley and Jim Heddles, and they deposed that they collected aigs from them hens every day, see 'em cooked, and personally fed 'em out to Givins. He was the most surprised feller you ever see.

"Ain't I a snake?" said he, snapper gasted, an' beginnin' t' catch on.

"No," says I. "You're a Rhode Island Red."

THE WOMAN WHO USED HER THEORY

There was once a Woman who had a Theory that Men did Not Care for Too Much Intellectuality in her Sex. After this Theory she shaped her Actions, which Shows her to have been a Remarkable Woman. One day a Man asked her if she Belonged to his Sister's Ilsen Club.

"Oh, no," she answered, "I Cannot understand Ilsen at all."

The Next Time he called he brought her a Bunch of Violets and asked her if she read Maeterlinck.

"No; I think it is Very Silly," she replied.

BROUGHT HER A BUNCH OF VIOLETS AND ASKED HER IF SHE READ MAETERLINCK.

Then the Man brought her a Box of Chocolates, remarking, "Sweets to the Sweet—do you not think Shakespeare was Right?"

The Woman saw that she was Making Progress. Now was her Time to Stop, but this she Did Not Perceive.

"Shakespeare?" said she. "Oh, yes, I have read a Little of His Works, but I do not see Much Sense in Them, to tell the Truth."

"Nay, nay," said the Man, "this is Too Much. Not to understand Ilsen shows that you are a Good Woman; to think Maeterlinck Silly augurs Well for your Intelligence; but not to see Much Sense in Shakespeare implies that you are Uneducated."

And he did not Call Again.

This teaches us that it is Possible to Get Too Much of a Good Thing.

BACKACHE IS A WARNING

DIXON PEOPLE SHOULD NOT NEGLECT THEIR KIDNEYS.

Backache is often nature's most frequent signal of weakened kidneys. To relieve the pains and aches, to remove the lameness when it arises from the cause—the kidneys. If you have pain through the small of your back, urinary disorders, headaches, dizzy spells, or are nervous and depressed, start treating the kidneys with a tested kidney remedy.

Doan's Kidney Pills have been proved good and are especially for weak kidneys. Doan's have been used in kidney trouble for over 50 years. Here is convincing proof of merit. It comes from this locality.

Mrs. J. H. Boehm, 906 Fourth Ave., Sterling, Ill., says: "We have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for years, and think they are the best kidney remedy to be had. Although I never had occasion to use Doan's Kidney Pills myself, I can confirm the public statement I gave some years ago in their favor. One of the family had trouble from his back and kidneys. The kidney action was irregular and his back hurt him. Finally, he used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Perry's Drug Store, and they gave him relief."

The above is not an isolated case. Mrs. Boehm is only one of many in this vicinity who have gratefully endorsed Doan's. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mrs. Boehm recommends. 50c all stores. DICTAGRAPH IS BASIS OF CASE

Carman Prosecution Rests on Mechanical Eavesdropper.

PROSECUTOR FLAYS ACCUSED

In Opening Statement He Charges Doctor's Wife Murdered Mrs. Bailey in Fit of Jealousy—Tore Out Dictagraph and Hid It After Crime Was Committed.

Mireola, L. I., Oct. 21.—That jealousy was the motive Mrs. Florence Carman had in slaying Mrs. Louise Bailey was the opening statement made to the jury by District Attorney Smith in his outline of the case.

The prosecutor laid special stress on the dictagraph found in the Carman home. He told the jurors how Mrs. Carman, suspicious of the doctor, had taken the dictagraph on trial under an assumed name and later had purchased it outright, saying she was perfectly satisfied with it.

He told the jury how the wire screen at the window to the office was propped up, the window pane broken, a revolver thrust through the opening and a bullet fired into the heart of Mrs. Bailey. Although she died within a minute, he said, her body lay on the floor for some time before the police were notified.

Will Show Her Guilt.

"We shall show," continued the district attorney, "that the shot that killed Mrs. Bailey was fired by this defendant. We shall show that she passed through the kitchen out through the side yard a moment before the shooting, and that she returned through the kitchen immediately after it. We shall show further that the motive was jealousy and suspicion of her husband."

"To prove this, we shall call a woman whom Mrs. Carman slapped on one occasion when she saw her husband give her money while the pair were in the physician's office." The district attorney stated that it was through the same window the fatal shot was fired that Mrs. Carman spied on her husband and the woman she slapped.

The district attorney also told how the defendant tore out the instrument the morning after the murder and hid it in the garret.

Prepared Defense Before Accused.

"We will show some things about George M. Levy, this defendant's counsel," Mr. Smith continued. "We will show how she called this lawyer in the day after the murder and consulted him, and how he immediately questioned the colored girl, Celia Coleman, about what she had seen. We will show that before this defendant had even been suspected she began to prepare for her defense, and that she instructed the colored girl what to say in case the officers of the law should question her. After we show all this, gentlemen, we shall expect you to bring in a verdict of murder in the first degree."

Tell of Mrs. Carman's Whereabouts.

Several witnesses testified as to the whereabouts of principals in the case on the day of the tragedy.

Miss Hazel Cowles said that while in Dr. Carman's office on the night of June 20 she saw Mrs. Carman pass through the reception room twice after the arrival there of a woman supposed to have been Mrs. Bailey.

George Golder of Freeport, who also was in Dr. Carman's office, said a woman in white passed down the hall from the front of the house to the rear end back again, a few minutes before the shooting.

Negroes Object to "Jim Crow" Seats. Champaign, Ill., Oct. 21.—Because they allege they are discriminated against by theaters and moving picture houses, Champaign and Urbana negroes have formed an organization with the avowed purpose of securing "just as good seats as the white people." They declare that they are either made to sit in "Jim Crow" section or refused seats entirely.

Charge It to European War. Moline, Ill., Oct. 21.—The European war is blamed by three dairies in the tri-city for the increased cost of milk, notices of which were deposited with each bottle of milk distributed in the morning. Pint bottles of milk, which have sold at 4 cents, and quarts, which have sold at 8 cents, have been raised 1 cent each.

PARIS SAYS ALLIES PROGRESS

German Official Report Declares Foe Was Repulsed at Lillie With Heavy Losses—Austrian Official Announcement Tells of Victories in Eastern War Theater.

Petrograd, Oct. 21.—Official statement declares that the Germans are continuing their efforts to cross the Vistula river at several points despite very heavy losses. At no point, says the statement, have they succeeded. The Russians are declared to be advancing steadily, although slowly, on the Warsaw-Ivangorod front, driving the Germans before them. According to a statement published in the Army Gazette some 18,000 German dead, left on the field by the retreating Germans were buried by the Russians.

The war office states that the German right wing, which is extended into Galicia, has been making determined attacks in co-operation with the Austrians but it is claimed that at no point has the enemy succeeded in gaining any distinct advantage. The Austrians have attempted to cross the San river, only to be repulsed with heavy losses, while fifteen Austrian officers and 1,000 soldiers have been taken prisoners.

Allice Make Progress, Says Paris.
 Paris, Oct. 21.—The official communiqué issued at 11:05 o'clock at night is as follows:

"Today has been marked by efforts made by the Germans all along the battle line, at the following points: In the extreme north, where the Belgian army has held its ground remarkably well; at La Bassée, where the Germans made an exceptionally violent attack; north of Arras; at Mametz, between Peronne and Albert; at Vauquers, east of the Argonne ridge; finally on the heights of the Meuse and in the region of Champlon. The German attacks have been repulsed everywhere."

The official communiqué given out at 3 o'clock follows:

"In Belgium, in spite of violent attacks on the part of the enemy, the Belgian army has held its position on the line of the River Yser."

"There have been other actions in the regions of Ypres between the allied forces operating in this territory and the forces of the enemy."

"On our left wing, the Germans continue to hold strongly their advance posts around Lillie in the direction of Armentieres, Fournes and La Bassée."

"On the Meuse the enemy has endeavored in vain to drive back the advance posts of our troops, who have moved out along the right bank of this stream in the peninsula of the Camp des Romains."

"To sum up, during the day of Oct. 19, we have made progress at various points on the front."

Repulse Allies, Is Claim.

Berlin, Oct. 21.—The following official communication has been issued: "The Germans advancing along the coast from Ostend met hostile forces at the Yser river, near Nieuport, where fighting has been going on since last Saturday."

"Yesterday the attacks of the enemy west of Lillie were repulsed, the enemy suffering heavy losses."

"In the eastern theater of the war there has been no material change."

Austrians Claim Victories.

An Austrian official announcement given out at Vienna Oct. 19 says:

"The battles yesterday to the east of Chyrow and Przemyśl (both in Galicia) again were very successful for the Austrians. The fighting near Mizyniec was especially severe."

"The Magiera Heights, which had been in the possession of the Russians and which formed a great barrier to our advance, have now been occupied by the Austrians."

"North of Mizyniec our troops advanced close to the enemy."

"The Russian attacks on the east of Przemyśl to Medyka Heights, on the southern wing of the battle field, which were especially directed against the heights to the southwest of Stry and Sambor, were repulsed."

"In the Stry and Stica valleys our troops are advancing."

"A fresh attack of the Russians on our troops on the east bank of the river, near Jaroslau (Galicia), has been repulsed."

"In Russian Poland the German and Austrian cavalry repulsed to the west of Warsaw a great Russian cavalry attack."

Keep on Fighting at Naco.

Naco, Ariz., Oct. 21.—Neither General's Hill or Maytorena are respecting orders from Aguas Calientes to cease hostilities. General Hill wired to his representative at Aguas Calientes that he would not consent to giving the conference absolute power and that the conference should not disobey the orders of the first chief.

London, Oct. 21.—Advices from Naples declare that passengers arriving there from Greece say that the entire Greek army and navy are ready for war. Greece has 450,000 soldiers in her first line ready for immediate action, and could mobilize, it is stated, 300,000 additional within a fortnight.

The fleet is in a perfect state of efficiency and there is constant agitation for Greece to join the allies without delay.

COUP BY VILLA NOT CONFIRMED

Early Report Said Peace Conference Had Been Trapped.

WASHINGTON DISBELIEVES IT

State Department's Information Is That Ex-Bandit Leader Is Many Miles Away From Aguas Calientes—Reports From Conference Pass Through Villa Hands.

Washington, Oct. 21.—Reports that Villa forces marched into Aguas Calientes in the afternoon and overawed the peace convention in session there are not confirmed by advice to the state department and department officials expressed disbelief of these reports.

It was pointed out that in the first place Villa has returned to Zacatecas and that such a movement against the conference as was reported from the border would hardly take place in Villa's absence. Furthermore the department has received reports that Villa, during the time he was in Aguas Calientes, pledged himself to abide by the decisions of the peace conference and support it in every way.

In fact the agents of the state department at Aguas Calientes report that while there were no new developments there, the utmost harmony prevailed among all factions.
